UKSMA President and Vice President

The UKSMA has a strong heritage in providing unrivalled knowledge and services to its members, who are all very passionate about the spring industry. Our Council is elected from within our membership and recently we elected our new President, Steven Boyd, of G&O Springs, and our new Vice President, John Clifford, of Clifford Springs. With over 65 member companies, we actively promote the industry, its products and our members.

This is a period of great change for both the UKSMA and the UK industry; the association is a member organisation and we would like to encourage all UK Spring manufacturers to become more actively involved in the development of the association; we invite you to tell us what we can do to assist you in the future that will ensure that your needs and interests are being met. You can write to us at uksma@uksma.org.uk; please spare us the time to give us some constructive feedback on our current performance.
